News Items for this column may be sent to Mrs. C. C. Colby, 175 Jefferson Avenue, East.

A Big rally for the Local N. A. D. branch! Mr. Martin Taylor, of Kalamazoo, has accepted good naturedly, to give a talk, for the benefit of the Convention fund Saturday evening, November 15th, at the hall of the Detroit Association of the Deaf. The committee have arranged elaborate preparations for the coming lecture. The social promises to be a splendid one, and the local N. A. D. Branch are planning to make the date, November the 15th, as red letter night. Hot coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Tickets are selling rapidly. Mr. Taylor is a good and pleasant gentleman, always ready to make himself useful to the deaf-mutes. Where he is known he is a favorite, and where he is not known, he becomes so almost as soon as he makes his appearance before an audience of deaf-mutes.

Come and see him—the tall figure in plain clothes, without jewelry, the strong lined N. A. D. countenance with the large dark eyes, gives an impression of true friendship for the deaf community. Be at the lecture hall early so as to get the best seats, for by 7:30 the hall will be packed with a mass of humanity struggling to get a glimpse of this distinguished gentleman from Kalamazoo. Do not depend on the word "If," but walk in and see him. A cordial invitation is extended to all the deaf of Michigan and nearby States, to attend this lecture. The date is Saturday evening, November 15th. The hall of the D. A. D. is located on the fourth floor of 176-178 Jefferson Avenue, East, corner of Woodward. The price of admission is fixed at twenty-five cents. A flashlight picture will be taken at 10 o'clock sharp. Orders for the pictures can be gotten from any one of the committee if they are good, and the net proceeds go to the convention fund. Mr. Taylor is expected to stay in Detroit with his daughter over Sunday, the 16th, then go to visit the Michigan School for the Deaf in Flint, the following Monday. Mrs. Taylor may accompany him.

For the benefit of the Convention fund the "Autumn Social" was held at the hall of the D. A. D., Saturday evening, October 18th. It was a success in every way. A good number of the local frats attended to help make the Convention greater and they are going to do it. Hurrah for the Frats! Doff the hats to the Frats! They are our champions in the N. A. D. campaign; we are proud of you, Frats!

Daniel Whitehead, secretary of the local division, No. 2, N. F. S. D., who opened the social program of the evening by explaining that a popular contest for the ladies was the first in the list. Several ladies were voted for by their admirers present as the most popular lady of the evening, but a wee baby girl, one year old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beaver, won the place of honor. About thirty dollars from the bids were swept into the fund.

Fudges, assorted candy, etc., donated by Misses Dahm, Goth (two boxes), Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Schlein, and fruits donated by Miss Violet Colby and Miss Miller, were auctioned, and over ten dollars went into the fund. D. I. Whitehead was the auctioneer. A large and fine pumpkin, donated by D. I. Whitehead, hidden in a crate as a guessing contest, was won by Miss Violet Colby, and she presented it to the Committee of the Hallowe'en Social of October 25th.

A whole apple pie was awarded to Mr. Rice for gulping up one-fourth of pumpkin pie in a minute. About fifty folks (women and men) were in the race with him. One can imagine how their mouths twisted. Mr. Whitehead, Miss Kirby, Mrs. Colby and Wm. Cormish were the judges for the pie eating contest. Mrs. A. Scott, who dressed as a Salvation army girl, collected the pennies from those who gave them. The pies were donated by the ladies, and sold for thirty-five cents each.

Two fine quality gingham aprons made and donated by Mrs. George Davies, were sold for ninety cents. Sandwiches and hot coffee were sold by Messrs. Goupill and Ben Beaver, and ice-cream by George Davies. Mrs. Schneider was the chairman of the evening.

It is rumored around in Detroit that a deaf frat from New York City would like to give a talk in Detroit, for the benefit of the Convention Fund, in the near future, providing the N. F. S. D. Societies could arrange lectures for him at several of the cities between New York City and Detroit.

Ben Beaver and several others spent last Sunday hunting in the woods. As yet, no one has heard how many squirrels they shot.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson and Mrs. Robertson's brother were at the Autumn Social of October 18th. Mrs. Robertson is deaf, but Mr. Robertson is hearing. Mrs. Robertson's brother lost his hearing a few years ago and has refused to learn the signs. Mrs. Robertson is eager to learn the sign language, has joined the Ladies' Auxiliary of the D. A. D. in hopes of educating herself.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Casimir Sadofsky was visited by a burglar Sunday evening, October 19th, while the family were away. Twenty dollars was taken and the house was thrown in disorder.

The Ephpheta Society had an annual business meeting Sunday afternoon, October 19th, and new officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. K. Liddy, re-elected President; I. J. Hellers, Vice-President; J. I. Walsh, Treasurer, and Miss Gibson, Secretary. The Board of Trustees, for a year, are Leon La Porte, Ann Donohue and John Walters.

Miss Lila Garnett's many friends living in Kansas, California and other places, will be pleased to learn that she has a good position in Detroit and will stay here till after the Convention.

Miss Francis Nichols and Claude McSparrin were married recently, and are receiving warm congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy are expected to move to Tennessee, the home of Mrs. Murphy, to live in the near future.

Prof. H. C. Hammond opened a Bible Class Sunday, October 19th.

Remember that the local committee cannot do the big things ahead unaided. Detroit and Michigan deaf must get behind them, give them support and broaden the vision and loosen its purse strings. We cannot wheel the Convention over the top with mere giving of rousing cheers, without having money. Let's see to it that every deaf shares in spirit and action for a Bigger and Better Convention!

The photo of E. M. Jacobs was framed and is hanging on the front wall of the D. A. D. Mr. Jacobs is the founder of the then Silent Athletic club of Detroit. It has changed to the present Detroit Association of the Deaf.

The house on Antiquerim Street, where the Allera family have lived for a long time, was sold some time ago. The Allera family are now busily engaged in house hunting for another place to live. The rentals of this season are much higher.

Miss Florence Wallace, of Ypsilanti, is a zealous worker and has a heart for success of the N. A. D. Convention. She handed the writer a five dollar bill from the proceeds from sale of articles she made with her hands. Thank you. Many friends of Miss Wallace will be pleased to learn that she will be wedded to Mr. Edward T. McMullen, the 19th of November. Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Voisine, of Kalamazoo, Michigan, received an announcement from Mr. and Mrs. Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Morton, of Chicago, of the arrival of a baby boy, September 30th, who was named Orton Jerome Stone, and is the first grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George Morton. Congratulations.

A pleasant birthday party was given in honor of Mrs. Ulrich, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ulrich, Saturday evening, October 18th. Mrs. Ulrich was kindly remembered with many pretty and useful gifts. Congratulations.

Mrs. M. Stotts is expected to go home to Saginaw, to spend a few weeks with her folks.

Frank Onik has been transferred to the assembling room of the Ford Motor Co. service as a courseman. He is a young frat and a member of the D. A. D. He had a narrow escape from death some months ago, his automobile skidded over an embankment and turned turtle.

We wish to state that the local N. A. D. Committee has nothing to do with the business program of the Convention. It is for the Executive Board to attend to that. Thank you.

From time immemorial it has been the custom to celebrate the last day of October, or "Hallowe'en" as it is familiarly termed. It is recorded in history that long before the Wise men of the East proclaimed the birth of the Christ child, that a great festival was held on this date by the Druid priests.

As the nations became Christianized the day was called "All Hallow," because it preceded All Saints' Day. The thirty first of October is regarded as one of the best days in the year for a hostess to entertain a party of young people. There are a hundred and one ways to furnish amusements for one's guests, and it is well nigh impossible to do in one evening all that history says can be done on All Hallowe'en. Under the auspices of the local N. A. D. branch the spirit of Hallowe'en ruled the entire hall of the D. A. D. Saturday evening, October 25th.

The hall was decorated with appropriate things that gave one a scary feeling. The evening altogether was a success with typical summer weather and the seating capacity was overtaxed owing to the steady growth of the N. A. D. membership. A ghost was stationed in the corner of the gate (entrance) playing wittily games and pranks, but those who had the N. A. D. magic walked through. Thank you.

President Jones opened the business meeting before the social began and there was an abundance of enthusiasm shown and an eagerness to put shoulder to shoulder and work together as never before. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary Whitehead and were approved. A letter from Dr. Cloud allowing two days more, previous to August 11, 12, 13, was loudly applauded from the whole, thus making the opening date of the Convention August 9th. A letter from Mr. Martin M. Taylor of Kalamazoo, saying that Kalamazoo is not the Slacker Town, was read, and the audience got up and gave Kalamazoo three cheers. Before the meeting adjourned, Mrs. Colby was brought to the platform and was presented with a pair of bone spees, a gift from the members of the local N. A. D. branch for her continuous work for the success of the convention. Mrs. Wm. Rheiner made the presentation speech. Under the direction of Mrs. Behrendt a good many home-made pies, donated by the ladies on the committee, were sold, and hot coffee and doughnuts, under the head of Mrs. MacLachlan and Miss Lila Garnett, sold like "hot cakes."

Mrs. Sadofsky presided at the cider bowl, which flowed like the river, and Mrs. Obee, who told fortunes was excellent, and a long line of men, women and children, eager to hear their fortunes, brought a good handful of coins. The contributions of over eight dollars were collected from the crowd by Miss Violet Colby, Mrs. Ulrich and Mrs. Colby. Mrs. Rheiner, chairman, was in charge of the pretty things that were raffled, and prizes were awarded. Mrs. Riedinger and Miss Ann Donohue were selling popcorn, and the good odor of the fresh pop-corn brought the crowd to the ladies. The affair was a success financially, and much credit is due Mrs. Wm. Rheiner, chairman, and the deaf enjoyed plenty of merriment, and every one enjoyed to the fullest excellent Hallowe'en refreshments. Mrs. Rollins was in charge of the apple bobbing—it was with great fun to see the folks trying to bite.

Mr. Wm. Behrendt, who dressed as "King Hallowe'en," took charge of the room. The committee dressed alike in a hallowe'en costume. The committee wishes to thank Messrs.

Chas. Wachuta and Joseph McValley, of Cleveland, Ohio, for their prompt service in decorating the hall, etc.

A business meeting of the local N. A. D. Committee was called to order by Chairman Kenney Thursday evening, October 23d. Those present were: Jones, Schneider, Walsh, Kresin, Berry, Wells, Waters, Miss Colby, Mrs. Colby and Mr. Elchoff of Flint. The propositions in writing in regard to the publicity, entertainment, etc., for the Convention, by Mr. Elchoff of Flint, were read, and which will be considered and discussed in the next meeting. They have decided to make Statler Hotel the Convention Headquarters. After lengthy discussion as to whether we shall have a ball, the majority voted "yes." The meeting adjourned to the last Thursday night of November.

Many Detroit deaf have taken advantage of fair weather the last ten days to gather walnuts, hickory nuts and chestnuts, from woods surrounding the city. The nut crop is said to be a heavy one.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, D. A. D. membership campaign, has been well begun, to continue until Spring. The ladies are all energetic workers and are inviting all the deaf ladies to join.

Those who have finished making articles for the N. A. D. Bazaar, please bring them to the November meeting, Saturday evening, November 22d, and all chairmen will please to be present to give their reports.

Detroit friends of Mrs. Alice M. Andrews remembered her natal day with a gift—a subscription to the JOURNAL. Congratulations! Mrs. Andrews is a Parish visitor of the Ephphatha Mission for the Deaf in Los Angeles, which Rev. Clarence E. Webb is Missionary-in-charge.

Let us forget, the admission price to the Taylor lecture at the hall of the D. A. D. Saturday evening, November 15th, will be twenty-five cents. Those who see him will get more than their money's worth.

Many Detroit friends and school mates of Miss Grace Knight, of Chicago, were pleasantly surprised to learn that she was engaged to Mr. William Hoffman, of California, and we all send our hearty congratulations to them.

Mr. John A. Moynihan, of Waterloo, Ont., has been on a strike for four weeks, and last week it ended in favor of the Union, who now receive their demanded sixty cents an hour with several other concessions. Many friends will be pleased to learn that Mr. Moynihan is improving nicely now, after his heart attack and collapse in Kitchener, some weeks ago.

Mrs. Moynihan and her daughter Beverly, went to Ketchener Station to see the Prince of Wales, October 20th, and she said that he greatly resembled his father, King Edward, whom she saw when he was Prince of Wales many years ago, while she lived with her grand-mother in Brantford.

The Detroit Free Press of October 31st, says:—

DEAF-MUTE KIDDIES INJURED.

Darting suddenly from between two standing automobiles on Dix Avenue, between Scotten and Vine-wood Avenue, Ruth Nesbit, six, of 880 Hubbard Avenue, a deaf-mute, and Donald Hess, were struck by an automobile driven by Francis L. Hackett, 634 Dix Avenue, and seriously injured.

Detroit Silent Basket-Ball team was organized recently, and the boys are now practicing two nights every week.

We wish to correct the item that it was Mrs. Davis, mother of Mrs. August Brecht, Matron of the Ohio School for the Deaf, who donated the two fine gingham aprons that were sold for ninety cents, and not Mrs. George Davis as reported.

It is reported that Mrs. Elsie Hughes was held up Sunday evening, October 26th, and a ten dollar bill was taken from her.

Charles Newman went to Toledo, Ohio, October 25th, on both pleasure and business.

H. B. Waters and family are rejoicing at having a new home in Royal Oak, which Mr. Waters has bought recently.

Among the pretty residences on Willow Street, Waterloo, Ont., the Moynihan's is one of the highest, and being so tiny and so cosy they have christened it "Bird's nest." The house is 24x22 feet, with every convenience.

We have two deaf patent inventors in Detroit—Mr. Jacobs and Mr. Rheiner. Mr. Rheiner has invented an electric alarm clock which has proved to be a great help among the deaf. It is so connected so that when the alarm is set for a certain time the light flashes on, therefore the light attracting the attention of the deaf sleeper.

Dear Reader: I think I will have to lay down my pen just now, to follow my physician's order. He has advised me to refrain from reading and writing for at least sixty days, or the results will be serious.

I do hope some Detroit deaf will be willing to take my place to keep on boosting the Convention City. Mrs. C. C. C.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The deaf of Syracuse are not sleepy. They have their pleasures and entertainments as of yore. Only that it lacks some one to write occasionally. But it can better be explained that at present there are more deaf from other schools than from Fanwood, so these don't get the JOURNAL and as most of the men are members of N. F. S. D., they and their families may think they get enough news from their paper, The Frat.

Since Rev. Van Allen passed away last winter there was no service for the deaf until the 19th, of this month, which was conducted by his successor, Rev. Mr. Merrill of Washington. The evening before a reception was given in his honor. The unusual large gathering proved that we welcomed him heartily. No doubt he will do his best in his new field, and we hope all will give him helping hands in his work. The annual bazaar will be held in the parish house on the sixth of December. We hope it will be a success.

The monthly meetings of the Ladies' Aid Society used to be on Thursday afternoon, but on finding that few could attend, it was changed to the evening, so that those who have to work and those young mothers with babies get opportunities to leave their tots in care of their daddies. So the first evening meeting held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy was successful, as there was more than twice the usual attendance. It was not only attended on business, but also for pleasure. All had a merry time and they declared it was the best they had; so were the refreshments served, that the host and hostess felt complimented and pleased.

Among those present at the reception from out of town were Mr. Thomas Kinsella and Mr. Robert Mayershoffer of Utica, and Miss Merrill of Oneida. Both of the gentlemen are printers.

The Frats' monthly meeting last Saturday was also enjoyed by all who attended it.

Miss Adeleyer, formerly of Mt. Airy, Pa., and Gallaudet College, now lives in this city with her parents. Though modest, she is of pleasant disposition that she is welcome anywhere. She used to teach at Arizona School for the deaf for some time, before she came to live here.

AKRON, O.

"GOODYEAR'S INDUSTRIAL CONGRESS."

About the most recent improvement put forward to solve the industrial problems of today is the Industrial Congress, which is being tried out in many of the larger industrial firms of the country. Probably the most up-to-date of any of these is now in operation in the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company's factory here in Akron, Ohio. The main idea in view is to prevent friction between the management and the workmen in the factory, and so far the results have been above the expectations of either side.

The Goodyear Idea is to have each and every department in the factory represented by at least one senator and two representatives, along the same scale as used in the Congress of our glorious country.

Last summer nominations were sent in and the Representatives and Senators were elected. Only Industrials, or persons over 18 years of age and having been in the employ of the Company for at least six months, were allowed to vote; and no one who had not been in the Company's employ less than one year was allowed to run for office; and to become a Senator one had to have a Service pin or have five years' service to his credit.

After the men were elected, they went to meet some of the factory managers and officials selected by the Co. to be members of the Governing body.

In order that there would be no hint of unfairness, no man on the salary pay roll was allowed to run for office.

Now when anything goes wrong in the factory, instead of striking or causing trouble, the men in the department concerned place their grievances before their congressmen who after duly considering the two sides of the case, take it up before congress and fight for their men just as the Congressmen in the U. S. Congress do.

One of the first good things to come of this new way of factory management was the establishment of a permanent shift. The men longest in the Service of the Co. were given preference and put on the first shift, and the others arranged according to service on the third and second shifts. However, if a man on the first so desired, he could transfer to one of the other shifts.

The Merit system was also inaugurated by this congress of workmen, and hereafter a man advances on his own merits alone, and not by any relation to the head inspector or the foreman. The man with the goods is the one who gets on top.

There is seldom a time when there is cause for discontent in the Goodyear Factory, and when there is, the congress will always take care of the trouble, and as a greater number of the workmen are stockholders in the Company, they naturally want to make things come the Company's way.

Next week I will try and tell some of the readers who are not in touch with Akron about the flying Squadron, which now has about 100 Silent members.

The regular monthly meeting of the Akron Chapter Gallaudet College Alumni Association was held in the Boy Scout Lodge in Goodyear Heights, on Sunday night, Oct. 25th, with most of the members present. Interesting talks were made by several of the members. All pledged to take out their old loyal College spirits and to keep them shining throughout the coming year and all years to come.

One day recently about six o'clock in the morning, six redfaced fat looking individuals stepped forth from a Buick automobile in front of the Goodyear Silent Athletic Club House and started in to mob the few boys who happened to be in the Club at that time. Upon investigation by Tom Blake, it was found that they were not insane maniacs on a rampage, but our own friends and co-workers—namely, Fred Fancher, George Barron, Eric Ornberg, Alexander Parrish, Ansil Haggard and Floyd Buster, who had been away on a six weeks automobile tour through the western states. To say that the trip agree with them would be putting it mildly, indeed for everyone of them looked as if he had been taking a three months' vacation on a farm with nothing to do but eat and sleep.

The party left Akron on September 13th bound for Denver, Colorado, taking along one more, namely A. C. Martin, who gave up the ghost in Omaha, and beat it back to Akron on the fastest train obtainable. After taking on oil at Akron, the party pulled out for Toledo, Detroit, Chicago, Des Moines, Omaha, Denver, Colorado Springs, Yellowstone National Park, Pike's Peak, coming back by way of St. Louis, Kansas City, Louisville, Danville, and Columbus.

At all stops along the route the party was given a royal time by the various Frat Divisions and Schools.

The boys spent the nights either in tents or on the road, some nights Fancher driving his car all night long. While in Omaha Fancher sold his Cadillac automobile and bought a new Buick, making a profit of about $400.00 on the deal.

Although the party encountered a good deal of bad roads, especially on the home stretch, they were fortunate to come through the trip without a single accident.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schafter will move into their own home near Springfield Center, five miles from Akron. Mr. Schafter works in the Goodyear plant.

L. J. Kowland, of Scranton, Pa., was a recent visitor in Akron. Friends will be delighted to know that Samuel M. Joseph, who formerly worked in the Goodyear plant, is now working at Duplan Mill Corp., in his home town, Latimer, Mines, Pa.

George Davis, who worked for the Firestone Company during the summer vacation, has returned to Gallaudet College.

Charles H. Clarkson, of Worcester, Mass., has been in Akron on a visit among deaf friends during the month of September.

John F. Schild, of Mansfield, enjoyed his trip to this city, Saturday, October 18th, to call on his old friend, J. W. W. Powell, at his harness shop. Ye scribe met him there and found him in good health. Leslie McComb, of Cleveland, recently visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Reinhold.

George Cosgrove is back at work on the "hill," from a visit to his home in Minneapolis, Minn.

Friends were all glad to see Fred Fancher, A. D. Martin, E. Ornberg, Alex Parrish, F. Buster, Ansil Haggard and George Barron, back at the Goodyear after an enjoyable western motor trip.

Rev. Mr. Flick, of Chicago, stopped in Akron recently, for a visit with deaf friends at the Goodyear Club headquarters.

George W. Prigge will probably leave in about two weeks for Texas, to look after his interests in several oil investments.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 5, 1919.—President Wilson today issued the following proclamation naming November 27 as Thanksgiving Day:

"By the President of the United States a proclamation:

"The season of the year has again arrived when the people of the United States are accustomed to unite in giving thanks to Almighty God for the blessings which He has conferred upon our country during twelve months that have passed.

"A year ago our people poured out their hearts in praise and thanksgiving that through Divine aid the right was victorious and peace had come to the nations which had so courageously struggled in defense of human liberty and justice. Now that the stern past is ended and the fruits of achievement are ours, we look forward with confidence to the dawn of an era where sacrifice of the nations will find recompense in a world of peace.

"But to attain the consummation of the great work to which the American people devoted their manhood and the vast resources of their country, they should, as they give thanks to God, reconsecrate themselves to those principles of right which triumphed through His merciful goodness. Our gratitude can find no more perfect expression than to bulwark with loyalty and patriotism those principles for which the free peoples of the earth fought and died.

"During the past year we have had much to make us grateful. In spite of the confusion in our economic life resulting from the war, we have prospered. Our harvests have been plentiful, and of our abundance we have been able to render succor to less favored nations. Our democracy remains unshaken in a world torn with political and social unrest. Our traditional ideals are still our guide in the path of progress and civilization.

"Those great blessings vouchsafed to us, for which we devoutly give thanks, should arouse us to a fuller sense of our duty to ourselves and to mankind to see to it that nothing we may do shall mar the completeness of the victory which we helped to win. No selfish purpose animated us in becoming participants in the world war, and with a like spirit of unselfishness we should strive to aid by our example and by our co-operation in realizing the enduring welfare of all peoples, and in bringing into being a world ruled by friendship and goodwill.

"Wherefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, hereby designate Thursday, twenty-seventh day of November next, for observance as a day of thanksgiving and prayer by my fellow countrymen, inviting them to cease on that day from their ordinary tasks and to unite in their homes and in their several places of worship in ascribing praise and thanksgiving to God, the author of all blessings and the master of destiny.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia, this fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-fourth.

WOODROW WILSON.

Sealed by the President.

ROBERT LANSING,

Secretary of State."

GALLAUDET COLLEGE.

President Hall left Washington on Friday, November 7th, on an extended tour of inspection among the schools for the Deaf in the Middle West. His first stop will be at the Ohio School in Columbus, to attend a conference of the Principals of the state schools; and en route he will stop over in Akron to visit the Goodyear and Firestone plants.

Circumstances at home necessitating his immediate presence have forced Funk, '23, temporarily to discontinue his studies here.

The Fund which the Co-eds, under the management of Miss Peet and with the aid of the Alumnæ, have been carrying on for two years, has finally been converted into a Grandfather's clock, which now adds another touch of elegance to the Reading Room in Fowler Hall. The clock, as the inscription attached to it states, is a testimony to Sophia Fowler, mother of the Founder of the Gallaudet College and first matron of the Co-eds.

The Athletic Endowment Fund, which was launched by the undergraduate members of the Athletic Association in February of last year, has passed the $1000 mark, the exact amount being $1071. The first eight hundred dollars were realized through the contributions of the members, and the proceeds from the various enterprises conducted by the undergraduates in the interest of the Association. At a meeting last week, the members made further contributions, with the result that the fund now stands at its present figures.

The College branches of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. realized $165 for the Red Cross Fund. These contributions were confined to the students, the members of the Faculty and the latter's families, and the sum realized shows that practically every member contributed his or her share.

Instead of the regular Faculty speaker at the Sunday afternoon services on November 9th, the Y. M. C. A. obtained Mr. George Peet to lecture on his sojourn in France as a member of the Peace Conference. Mr. Peet, who comes from the family of Peets so closely connected with the education of the Deaf in New York City, served as an intermediary between the Conference and the myriad newspaper correspondents who migrated to Paris while this epoch-making event was going on. Though he still retains enough of the sign language to carry on ordinary conversation, Mr. Peet insisted that he be interpreted by his sister, Miss Peet, who is a past master of the language. Result was that the audience was treated to one of the most pleasant three-quarters of an hour they have spent in Chapel Hall in a long time.

ATHLETICS.

On November 9th, before one of the largest crowds ever assembled on Garfield Field, Gallaudet's pigskin chasers, after putting up a very disappointing game in the first half, came from behind in the second and swamped Western Maryland College under the score of 27 to 6. Though they put up a superior brand of foot-ball from the very outset, the Buff and Blue suffered heavy penalties, which, combined with its inability to start a concerted attack, kept them from scoring. The Marylanders' 6 points came as the result of a freak play. La Fontaine, while standing back of his own goal, attempted to punt the ball out of danger but, in so doing, booted it against the cross bars and it rebounded into Gallaudet's territory, where it was pounced upon by Ward, the visitors' center.

Gallaudet chalked up its first score when it worked the ball to the visitors' twenty-five yard line and then pulled off the old criss cross play, Bouchard carrying it around right end. The next touchdown came when Wilson hurled a forward pass into LaFontaine's waiting arms, after two previous attempts had been frustrated. Seipp brought the total up to 13 with a boot from goal.

Western Maryland's line, which in the early stages of the game had put up a stubborn defense, now appeared tired, and line plunges by Downes, Seipp and Matthew ripped large holes in that section. After three plunges had netted over 60 yards, Downes crashed through for another touchdown. Seipp was successful on the goal. The last tally came when Capt. Wilson, aided by fine interference, rounded left end and ran 65 yards for a touchdown.

Every man on the team put up a creditable game for Gallaudet, but long runs by Capt. Wilson, together with his all-around playing, line plunges by Downes and Seipp, and end runs by La Fontaine and Bouchard were the outstanding features of the team's offense.

The line-up and summary:

GALLAUDET	Positions	WESTERN MD.
Bouchard	L. E.	Claes
Baines	L. T.	Hafer
Rogalsky	L. G.	Mullendore
Rebal	Center	Ward

Matthews	R. B.	Pullen

Score by periods:
Gallaudet	0	0	13	14	27
Western Maryland	0	0	0	0	6

WASHINGTON

After a lengthy lay-off, due to various causes over which he had no control, Occasional is again on deck with pen in hand to chronicle the doings of the silent folk of the Capital. While making no promises as to the policy to be pursued, it will be the endeavor of the writer to give every organization and every individual a square deal. Should circumstances develop the necessity for criticism, JOURNAL readers may rest assured that Occasional will express his opinion thereof in these columns without fear or favor.

The usual inactivity of the summer season being over, the religious and social organizations are now going at full blast. One of the first to get under way was the Baptist Mission, which held its annual business meeting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Bryant, on the evening of October 6th, an unusually large attendance being noted. The minister, Rev. A. D. Bryant, will hold religious services on the second and fourth Sunday evenings of each month. On the second Sunday evening, Holy Communion will be celebrated. The Bible Class will meet every Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in Sunday School House of Calvary Baptist Church. The monthly socials of the mission will come off on the last Friday evening of each month except in December, when the annual Christmas Festival takes place. This event is always held on some evening during Christmas week. This year it will in all probability be held on New Year's Eve, December 31st, 1919. Every one will please take notice thereof and get down the date on their engagement calendar.

Just what activities are being planned by the Episcopal Mission are unknown by the writer at this time. When advised thereof, an announcement will be made in these columns. We may say, tho, that much to the regret of their many friends in Washington and vicinity, Rev. H. C. Merrill recently announced his intention of removing to the Northern New York Diocese, where he will take charge of the field left vacant by the death of Rev. Van Allen. It is not expected that the family will go to New York before next Spring. When they do leave Washington, Rev. and Mrs. Merrill and their two pretty daughters will be greatly missed. Rev. and Mrs. Merrill have been identified with social and religious activities of the Silent Colony of the Capital for so many years, that it is hard to realize that they are really going to leave us. Their elder daughter, Miss Thelma, now a charming young lady, and employed in the Bureau of Navigation, Navy Dept., has endeared herself to all, while the younger daughter, known far and wide as "Little Bee," although now quite a big girl, and a member of the Girl Scouts, is the pet of everybody. As it is not our desire to cross bridges until we come to them, we will withhold further comment until later on.

The National Literary Society, probably the oldest secular society for the Deaf in the District of Columbia, meets on the third Wednesday evening of each month, at North East Masonic Temple, Eighth and F Streets, N. E. At its annual business meeting in October elected the following Board of Officers to look after its destinies for the ensuing year: President, Mr. Wm. Cooper; Vice President, Mr. E. E. Hannan; Secretary, Mr. W. Edington; Treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Marshall; Program Committee: Chairman, Cooper, ex-officio; Marshall; and Messrs. W. E. Marshall and W. P. Souder, and Sergeant-at-Arms, Mr. Chas. Creager. This Board succeeded Mr. W. P. Souder, President; Mrs. H. C. Merrill, Vice-President; Miss Marie Hunter, Secretary; Mr. W. E. Marshall, Treasurer; Mr. S. Streby and Mr. R. J. Stewart, Committee on Program; and Mr. Chas. Creager, Sergeant-at-Arms; all of whom, with the exception of the Vice President and Sergeant, had been in office for the past two years.

Although it has been keeping out of the limelight for quite a while, Washington Division No. 46, N. F. S. D., is still in the swim and is very much alive. It now boasts of a membership of 63. Quite a bunch for a burg the size of Washington. The Division held a Box Social, at its hall in North East Masonic Temple, on the evening of October 25th, and it proved to be both socially and financially the most successful affair ever given by the Division. For this successful outcome great credit is due to the Committee of Aux Frats who were in charge of the affair. This committee was composed of Mesdames Roberts, Hannan, Merrill, Bryant and Souder (Chairman). The next event will be a Ball and Social in the Auditorium of the Temple, on Saturday evening, November 29th. Brother George Gordon Kennapell leads a committee that will look after this event.

On the first Wednesday evening in January, 1920, after the routine business has been disposed of, the doors will be thrown open and the general public admitted to view the Installment Proceedings of the Board of Officers for the 1920 term, upon the conclusion of which a reception will be held. A cordial invitation is extended to all of the deaf of Washington and vicinity to attend these functions.

Announcements have recently been made of the engagements of two of our most popular and beautiful belles, Miss Sara Streby and Miss Marie Hunter. Miss Streby is to wed Mr. Holliday, of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia. While Miss Hunter is to become the bride of Mr. Wm. Cooper, of this city. Date of the weddings will be announced later and an account thereof will appear in these columns. In order that these young ladies may begin house-keeping with well-stocked linen closets, the women folks hereabouts surprised them with "Linen Showers;" that for Miss Streby being held at the home of Mrs. Merrill and that for Miss Hunter at Mrs. Adams' domicile. As the presence of mere man was taboo at these affairs, we are unable to give an account of what took place. (By the way, two or three of our more intrepid men folks did by some means gain admission to the Merrill home while Miss Streby's "Shower" was in full blast, but they were immediately pounced upon and ejected—Nuf sed!)

As the gifts to the blushing bride-to-be were so many and varied, it is practically impossible to list them accurately, consequently, we must refrain from trying to enumerate them. Those present at both "Showers" besides the hostesses, Mesdames H. C. Merrill and A. F. Adams, and guest of honor, were: Mesdames Percival Hall, A. L. Roberts, H. D. Drake, E. E. Hannan, O. G. Carrell, S. B. Alley, W. E. Marshall, D. Snook, H. S. Edington, A. J. Parker, R. L. Basile, F. Harrison, and Misses F. and B. Merrill, Fish and Nelson.

Mrs. Ida M. Piper, after two months visit with her mother, Mrs. Jennie Dailey, and her sisters, among whom are Mrs. W. P. Sander and Mrs. S. B. Alley, departed for her home in far-away Los Angeles, Cal., a few days ago. Shortly before her departure, one of her sisters, Mrs. A. H. Calman, gave a dinner in her honor at which four generations of the Dailey family were present, Mr. R. W. Dailey, a brother, coming all the way from Philadelphia, Pa., to attend. Needless to state that Great-grandma Dailey was greatly pleased to have so many of her kin folk with her again. Just before dinner was announced, Mrs. Piper was presented with a beautiful diamond lavalier, the gift of her sisters, Mesdames Graham, Sander, Calman, Alley, Wheatfield and Mockabee.

There are many other items of interest that we would like to jot down, but lack of time forbids, therefore they will have to go over until our next letter.

OCCASIONAL.

Pittsfield, Mass.

The N. F. S. D. held a Halloween dance at the Grange Hall on Fenn Street, Friday night, about seventy-five being present, guests from Bristol, Bridgeport, Connecticut; Holyoke, Springfield, Massachusetts; and New York City were present. The following prizes were won: 1st prize, by Miss A. L. Bisailone of this city; 2d prize, a fifteen dollar traveling bag, by Dan Murray of this city. Mr. Murray also won the gold watch at the Springfield ball, on October 12th. 3d prize, five dollars, to Joseph Connel, of Holyoke; 4th prize, also five dollars, to E. Lucas, of Waterbury, Ct.

On Saturday the N. F. S. D. held a mock trial, in the lodge rooms, of which the writer has no particulars. Mr. C. S. Risley, 53 Burbank Street, had the misfortune to have a large block of oil wood slip on his big toe. He was taken to Hillcrest Hospital, where an X-ray of the toe was taken, finding three bones broken. So he is laid up at home.

After an absence of four years spent in furthering the interests of the Standish Oil Co., in China, Mr. Joseph Loucks, brother of Mrs. C. S. Risley, landed on American soil again at San Francisco, Cal., September 10th. He visited his sister in this city October 1st, and from there went to the hundredth anniversary of Colgate College, where he graduated. Mr. Loucks has a six months leave. Leaving Chung-Kung on July 23d, traveling all that time to September 10th, he arrived at his brother's, Dr. Frank Loucks, 117 E. 116th Street, New York, where he is staying, but will be up here again ere he returns to China in January.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Packard are now living in North Adams, Mass.,

where Mr. Packard has a good job in a shoeshop. They were week-end guests of the Bedfords.

Mrs. Frank O'Rourke, nee Elsie Bent, and daughter Violet, have been spending two weeks with her father and relatives in Wilton, N. H.

The writer wants to correct an error. It was said there were fifty deaf from Albany in this city, attending the Frats' picnic on Labor Day. There were exactly seven deaf from Albany and Troy at our picnic. MAY.

A RURAL HALLOWE'EN

Ye city dudes may have your grand balls and "pony shows," and ye gay white way, with its disillusioning "morning after the night before," which makes you wonder where in the eternal is there real unmarred joy.

Ye travel forty feet underground and live one hundred nearer the sky, and yet never get a full view of the bright sun or the silvery moon. Come, let us backward folks show you the way.

Put on your clothes next to the ragman's reach and hike along the country roads with us. Get your lungs cleaned with the country air, and take the soreness out of your eyes with the harvest laden scenery.

Sure and we had an old fashioned, old fashioned in its name, if you please—Hallowe'en Party.

Twenty-five of the bon-ton elite last Saturday, laden to the armful with bundles of the snacks that make for a party, rode out to a point along the Hudson. There we were met by Farmer Becker with his team and hay-wagon. Three miles up hill and down dale, with mud half way up the spokes to the hub, we were bounced and jolted in springy wheels to his farmhouse of one and many rooms.

Rain came down in spasmodic showers, but the air was sharp and spicy.

We tooted and yelled with might main as along the way we passed bright lighted windows, half revealing with its rays large barns filled to bursting with the newly gathered harvest.

At a signal from one who recognized Farmer Becker's home, one and mighty grand hurrah went up, punctuated with Fanwood's baseball yell, led by the elongated son of a gun, Baron Bean.

Some in the party had the forethought to secrete boxes of confetti and rolls of narrow bright colored paper.

My, what a tumble in alighting. Each trying to get out of the other's way, and at the same time avoid stepping on the big box of pies on the floor of the wagon.

Mother Becker and her entrancing daughter, Mildred, were at the door with lanterns to welcome us.

Pumpkins large and small out in best style of the bogie man and that spy fellow, Jack O'Lantern, who goes around on Hallowe'en scaring children into being good.

The biggest of all was right in the doorway. He'd eat us up, would he? We had, the next day, juicy pumpkin pie that sends you into the seventh heaven at the first bite.

Well, well, pages upon pages, columns by columns, could be used up. Yet I would not be half way through my story. Through the night till the "cock crowed aloof," we played games and mock ceremonies. The sage of Schaghticoke, Mr. Shanks, was in his glory that night. With gaping mouths and eyes appoping, the uninitiated into the mysteries of hallowe'en were gathered in a circle around the roaring parlor stove.

There was a real earnest wrestling match that ended in a draw. "Silent Mike," who is in our humble midst taking part in boxing matches in and around Albany, exhibited his prowess.

Happy am I that no furniture was broken or I'd have brought the roof down on my head. If you would like to hear more of that joyous night, just come up second Saturday of February and ye'll get a dozen earfuls, or fingerfuls, should I say. Excuse the pun. BARON BEAN

Asks Job on Police Force.

Peculiar talents possessed by James Puckett, 1072 East Fair Street, cannot be utilized by Chief of Police Beavers, and his application for membership on the Atlanta force were turned down, with reluctance, Wednesday.

Puckett is deaf and dumb.

He appeared at police headquarters, and, after much gesticulating, obtained a piece of paper and wrote down the fact that he wanted a job on the police force.

He gave demonstrations of how drunken men appear by using his fingers as puppets. He assured the chief he would swing a billy and handle a gun with the best of them.

Puckett was at one time chief of police in a small town in Georgia and was shot in the throat, his hearing and power of speech being destroyed.—Atlanta, Ga., Constitution.

CHURCH MISSION TO DEAF MUTES.

NEW YORK DISTRICT NOTICES

St. Ann's Church, N. Y., every Sunday, 9 A.M. and 3 P.M.

BALTIMORE.

Over one hundred deaf-mutes went to see a foot-ball game between Hopkins and Gallaudet. Hopkins taking advantage of the weight over the mutes, beat them by a score of 33 to 9. Gallaudet made a very fine opponent, one that was interesting. The spectators marvelled at the way the mutes worked. Many hearing people said they could not understand how men who could not hear, could play such splendid football. The mutes deserve an immense amount of credit, for they played skillful and hard, and their performances delighted a very large crowd. It was perhaps the best crowd that Hopkins has entertained for years. The Baltimore Sun and News spoke highly of Gallaudet for their clean sport. Coach Pat Murphy of Hopkins said that Gallaudet footballists were in great physical condition, and if they had the weight they would be hard to beat.

Although 85 years of age, Mrs. Birtheft, of this city, is still hale and hearty. She attributes her long life and continued health and strength to mental happiness. She claims that she has never allowed herself to worry over troubles. When something happened that she could not rectify, but must needs endure, she always could think of some thing that might have happened that would have been infinitely worse. Ye scribe met her with her son sometime ago and asked her how he could live long. She said, "Don't worry if you want to live long." Mrs. Birtheft is with her only son, who is a prosperous butcher at Lexington Market.

The Baltimore Frat Division 47's ideal "Hallowe'en Social" last night, was well attended and proved an enjoyable one. The weather was wet and unpleasant, but many guests thoroughly enjoyed the party.

The prizes offered for the best costume and get-up were such that they were well worth competing for.

The maskers showed themselves during the evening, and were of all characters. They marched around the hall room several times, while Messrs. Sowell, Price, Unsworth and Mrs. G. Brown, made selections of the prettiest and most comical. It was an easy task for the Judges, as there were so few characters to decide upon.

After awarding the prizes to the winners, ice cream and cakes were served to all.

Several mutes donated cakes, or pumpkins to the Frats, to be auctioned off. Mr. Geo. Brown was called upon to perform this, and did it in a way that entitles him to be a No. 1 auctioneer. The bidding began at twenty-five cents and was spirited. Knocked off at from 1.15 to 3.10. Stephen Sandbeck took charge of the social.

Over seventy-five mutes were tendered a Hallowe'en social by Mr. and Mrs. G. Thies, at the Grace and St. Peter Parish Hall. The evening was spent in playing games, making jokes and stories. Ice cream and cake were served to all. Mr. Thies is a prosperous wall decorator, and his service is in demand all over the city.

Messrs. O'Neal and C. Boynton, taking advantage of the reduced fare, took the first train for New York last Saturday evening. The former was out for "pleasure," while there may be a "dainty Miss" in the case for Cobb Boynton.

Sixty-two Maryland coal mines are idle as a result of the coal strike. As far as we know there is not a deaf miner, and we are wondering if there are any deaf miners in the other States.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel are back in Baltimore after spending a short visit in Virginia, and they said there were few mutes, as many of them are scattered over the Northern States, where they could find better positions with better pay.

Calendars of special events from October to June have been issued, and are now in hand of the Committee. Any one wishing to get one, should see Mr. Leitner or Leitch.

A big crowd of mutes, of this city, were planning a trip to Washington to see a game of football between Gallaudet and Catholic University, but the rain prevented them. However, five of them braved the rain and enjoyed themselves immensely, especially at the Hallowe'en social at Gallaudet hall.

Miss Eloine Dean, of Belair, who caused a number of lovelorn youths to flutter around her during her brief stay in Baltimore, has written friends of her anxiety to return to Baltimore for a permanent stay. She is a very bright girl. She graduated from Maryland School for the Deaf with high honors.

The sugar situation, which was forcing the deaf mutes to unsweetened coffee and desserts, is improved somewhat—in fact, I met several married mutes who told me they got sugar ranging from two to five lbs.

The smiles that won't come off, are seen on Messrs. Koenig and Foxwell's faces now-a-days, and are attributed to the fact that stork left babies at their houses some time ago. Mothers and babies are doing finely.

Louis Nicholson's business has been multiplied and forces him to look for help. He is willing to pay a first-class paper handler six and a half dollars per day (8 hours.)

* Messrs. Kohn and Barry were in this city for fifteen days and were impressed by the growth of Baltimore, but they said meal prices were higher than in New York.

FANWOOD.

Owing to the illness of Cadet Corporal Hymen Stecker, the regular Fanwood correspondent, this week's issue is written by Cadet Sergeant Allen Cattanch.

November 4th, Election Day, all pupils were given a brief respite from studies and various school occupations, all were given the afternoon off.

The basket ball posts and baskets were again installed in their old position, on the lower right hand side of the playground, facing the hospital. Another goal was also placed on the old Brownie playground, the happy playgrounds of many childhood days in Fanwood, for the use of the smaller children.

Cadet William Donnelly is a new pupil here. He previously attended the Buffalo School for the Deaf.

One of the most elegant dressers in the cadet body is Cadet Musician Leon Wincig, who, since the event of long trousers is a regular habitue of the tailor shop, where he can be seen pressing them.

Miss Alice M. Teegarden, M.A., a teacher here, was recently taken ill and narrowly escaped an operation. During her illness her class chipped in, and bought her a beautiful bouquet of wild roses.

Supt. E. McKay Goodwin, M.A., of the North Carolina School for the Deaf, was a visitor recently. He expressed himself as much impressed with the work of the pupils here.

Major Van Tassel was recently visited by Dr. Miller R. Hutchinson, the inventor of the Acousticon, an appliance for the use of hard of hearing persons, which magnifies or increases the volume of sound. Dr. Hutchinson was for many years the chief electrician and personal representative of Thomas A. Edison. Just previous to his call, he had a ride in a Handley-Paige aeroplane.

There is nothing like learning while young, says Cadet Sergeant P. Skidelsky, who brings this fact into action by learning how to be a salesman. At present, he is dealing exclusively in gentleman's spats.

We had another visit from an old friend and graduate, in the person of former Captain A. Ruggerio, who dropped in during Saturday evening's chapel service. He mounted the platform, upon the request of the vice-president, and explained a few details of the Dartmouth-Pennsylvania football game, which he had witnessed at the Polo Ground that afternoon.

On account of the illness of Prof. William G. Jones, who has customarily held services in chapel on Sunday evenings for a great many years, the services are discontinued from now on, and in place we are to have a one and a half hour study period. Prof. Jones is not seriously ill, but the doctor has advised him to refrain from vigorous exertion, so he is forced to use the sign-language as little as possible. A great many pupils who have hitherto enjoyed his stories, are extremely sorry that they can no longer be able to see them.

Saturday evening's entertainment in chapel consisted of a lecture by Prof. E. S. Brndick, who discoursed on the "League of Nations," analyzing it from various angles, and explaining the differences of the Republican and Democratic party on this great subject. He also told of the stand taken by political and public officials and the different arguments presented for and against it. On the whole, his lecture proved entertaining and instructive.

Among the visitors in the Printing Office on Monday afternoon, November 10th, were Mr. A. V. Ballin and also Mrs. John H. Kent and her youngest daughter Doris.

The Isaac Lewis Peet Birthday Celebration.

Fanwood Alumni Association invites all graduates and former pupils of the Institution and their friends to be present at the birthday celebration of Dr. Isaac Lewis Peet, in the Institution chapel, Thursday evening, December 4th, at 8.30 o'clock.

WILLIAM H. ROSE,

THOMAS FRANCIS FOX,

President.

Mrs. Frank J. Keller (nee Ella S. Sprague), of Palmyra, N. Y., has been spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. August Kowald, of Rochester, New York. All are former Fanwood pupils. The Kowalds have just purchased a nice house.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter, or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

A campaign that is attracting widespread notice in the newspapers and arousing tremendous enthusiasm is the Nation-wide Campaign of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The Every Name Campaign in the diocese of New York is a part of this campaign. It has been planned and directed by some of the most influential men in the Nation. Its purpose is to arouse the slumbering zeal of the members of this church, with a call to personal service under the leadership of Christ, the Great Captain. Its slogan is "For God, for Church, for Country." When announcement of the campaign was issued, St. Ann's Church was among the earliest to enlist. During the summer, plans were worked out, a campaign committee appointed, and the first call for a "get-together" meeting was issued two weeks ago. This meeting took the form of a dinner, held at the Church last Tuesday evening. One hundred and eighteen were present. The guests were: the Rector, Rev. Arthur H. Judge, D.D., Rev. Mr. Peckham, Curate of St. Matthew's Church, Mr. F. H. Meeder, Junior Warden of the Church, and Mr. Stephen Bayne, Chairman of the Upper Manhattan Campaign Committee. The dinner was served under the supervision of the Woman's Parish Aid Society, assisted by the V. B. G. A. A. The arrangements were perfect, and the service excellent. The dinner itself left nothing to be desired. The menu was not elaborate, but very well and tastefully prepared:—

Cream of Tomato Soup
Celery
Roast Beef
Mashed Potatoes
Green Peas
Protean Pudding
Coffee

After the coffee was served came the speeches. Mr. Hodgson, Chairman of the Publicity Committee, introduced the speakers. Rev. Dr. Judge, Rev. Dr. Chamberlain, Mr. Meeder, Rev. Mr. Peckham, Rev. Mr. Kent, Mr. Bayne, Mr. Barnes, Mr. McMann and Mr. R. M. Robertson. Miss Gallaudet interpreted. Mrs. McCluskey was brought to the platform late in the evening to be complimented on the splendid arrangements.

The speakers all stressed the purpose and scope of the campaign and the result will follow. Earnestness, enthusiasm and faith are required. It must be no spurt, but a steady onward effort. We are sure that great good will come of this campaign, and confident that the members of St. Ann's Church, 478 strong, will work with energy and enthusiasm to bring about the great spiritual awakening that will accomplish much good for them, for their church and the deaf at large. Remember it is "For God, for Church, for Country."

On Sunday afternoon, November 16th, it is hoped to have every member of the church present at the special service. The sermon will be by a prominent layman. After the service the Campaign Committee will begin its canvass. The results of the Canvass will be announced at the close of the Campaign on December 7th. From now on members may expect to receive announcements and circulars through the mails. Watch for them.

All of the members of the Committee who have in charge the Annual Ball of Greater New York Division of the N. F. S. D. on the 14th of February next, have worked at the printer's case, and five of the seven are to-day journeyman printers, but in spite of that fact the types have played them a strange trick. When the proof of the ticket form was received, the date line read properly, "Saturday February 14th, 1920," but it was thought that the 14-point type was too large, and a notation was made for the compositor to change it to 10-point. When the tickets were in the hands of the Committee, and parcelled out in lots of six to the 225 members of the Division, none of the Committee noticed that the date line appeared as 1919, nor did any of the 125 members to whom tickets were distributed on Saturday evening. Forty-eight hours later a member who was never a printer discovered the error, and the discomfiture of the Committee can be readily imagined. However, it is needless to state that all these tickets will be honored, no matter what date appears thereon, and members who have not yet received their tickets will get a new issue that will bear proper date. Errors of this kind that fool even printermen will happen in spite of everything.

SILENT A. C. NOTES.

The S. A. C. had a most enjoyable evening at the recent Hallows-e'en Social, on October 25th last. It was attended by over two hundred people. Only a few games were played, owing to the crowd.

OHIO.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 999 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.]

Nov. 8, 1919.—The girls' recreation hall was given up from three to nine o'clock last Saturday to the Ladies' Aid Society for their Hallows-e'en Social and Fair.

Despite the rain, a large crowd was present from the opening to the close.

The hall was festooned becomingly for the occasion by the lady members.

Young and old lent attraction to with coverings on their heads of yellow crepe paper, tasty white aprons, and what is more, wearing smiles that made every one entering the hall feel at home.

There were nice different booths, each with a committee in charge—the largest, of course, was the lunch. The domestic one was on wheels and moved about during the evening. It had a large collection of articles and very few were left over. There was also a cider booth, and the thirst of that article could regale themselves for a nickel. There were side-shows, too. Chicken and mashed potatoes were the main features of the lunch and the booth was eaten out by eight o'clock, showing it was largely patronized.

The ice-cream and candy booths were swarmed as long as the fair was in progress, and had little or nothing left when the closing hour arrived. Those who bought ten cent tickets for lunch were given a chance to draw a prize. The lucky ones were Ruth Fadely, a boudoir cap; Edward Holy Cross, a bon bon dish; Victor Kemans, jelly dish; Isaac Shoup, of Detroit, chocolate cake made by Mrs. George Clum; Mrs. William Zorn, dressed chicken presented by Mrs. Christopher Neuner.

The chief attraction of the evening was the masquerade. There were more under mask than usually. Some were novel, some pretty, some grotesque, and not a few human looking. The maskers paraded around the hall a few times, to allow the judges to decide who were the most handsome and original, and then masks were dropped and some surprises created, as a number had hidden themselves so thoroughly they could not be made out while in the march. A number of the young girls prettily masked, as they paraded around the room in a dancing fashion, were much admired.

There was surprise when masks were doffed to find Mrs. Dennis Hanna, of Toledo, in the crowd, also Mrs. Margaret E. Evans, of this city, and one long, lean, lounging darkey proved to be Mr. Haines, foreman of the cabinet shop. Miss Gertrude Zorn, marked as a watermelon, was awarded first prize, a chain of pearl beads; as being the most original, and Miss Lucy McAfee as a walking vase. Second prize—a lace collar, most beautiful, made by Mrs. Laura Gard; Hazel Fisher, a boudoir cap.

Of the boys, for the most beautiful costumes, R. Schrempf secured a box of letter paper; Clarence Hill, bottle of toilet water; Wm. McBlaine, pair of cuff buttons. Most original—Hassinger as a cannibal, box of correspondence cards.

Several boxes of candy were auctioned off and brought good returns. Mr. and Mrs. Mayer donated a collection of vegetables, all of which were sold at a good figure. Mr. George Greener, of Boston, sent on a large package of articles for the domestic booth, and the Ohio girls at Gallaudet College made and sent on five pounds of fudge for the candy booth.

There were others who donated articles, and the society feels grateful and thanks the donors for their aid.

Among out of town people present were Miss Annie Young, of Mansfield, and Mr. John F. Schild, Miss Lillie Woodland, of Galion. Mrs. Dennis Hanna and Wm. Dreyer, of Toledo, Robert Drake of Massillon, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Shoup of Troy, Frank Stokes of Springfield, Mrs. Warren Albert (nee Coppeck) of near Dayton, Ohio, Warren Shueffer of Perry Co., Mr. Alfred Baker (nee Bowers), of Mansfield, Mrs. Samuel Ollenbuecher of Indianapolis, who came over Wednesday to attend the wedding of her sister during this week. Mr. and Mrs. Hines, of Jeffersonville, Miss Clara Bishop, of Newark, Miss Exie Saylor, of Cincinnati, Anther Hardborger and wife, formerly of Kentucky, but now residing in Columbus, Harry Dix.

From Akron came Albert Bannon and Warren Shires. Just how much the society realized from the fair is impossible to state now, but it will not be far from the $200 mark.

The first person we met on entering the hall Saturday evening, costumed and spelled our name. He was a big stalwart, probably tipping the scales at the 200 mark. We could not recall his name, and when asked it, he spelled out John Schild, and sure enough it was him. He in his school days was a tall, slender lad. Time has made him a big, robust fellow. He now lives in Mansfield, his former home being in Canton.

Albert Bannon's presence at the social was a surprise too. We had located him in New Jersey when last heard from, working about a dairy. He has quit that job for a while and moved to Akron, to get some of the rubber wealth that is pouring out to the deaf there.

Shortly after school opened the new heating plant of the school building was started up, and was giving satisfaction up to last Saturday, when the buildings of the school took on a temperature of anything but warmth. It developed that the main pipe from the heating plant at Monroe Avenue and Mound Street, which supplies heat to residences and the school suffered a break somewhere. This was not found till Tuesday afternoon, consequently with but a short session on Monday school was interrupted till Wednesday. Meanwhile the pupils were exercised to keep warm in various ways during the day time, and taken to rooms that could be furnished with heat in some way. The buildings are heated by the hot-water system.

The Zells motored down to Dayton yesterday to spend the week-end with relatives.

The two large stone gate posts at the southwest end of the lawn have been taken up. The reason for it is that the gateway is too narrow for large trucks to go through. By the way, these posts and the iron fence around the lawn did service for the State House grounds over fifty years ago and were later removed here, how long ago we do not remember, probably during the superintendency of Mr. Amasa Pratt in the eighties.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dix were visitors at the School on Wednesday. They came down to attend the wedding of Mr. Dix's sister Ione, which occurred Wednesday evening of this week. She was married to Mr. Robert Hogan by Rev. C. W. Charles. They left the same evening for a visit to the groom's home in New York, after which they will live in Akron, where he has a home ready for them. The Wednesday evening previous, Mrs. Dix was tendered a linen shower, through Mrs. Annie Callison and Miss Margaret Slegman. The affair was attended by some twenty friends, who gave the bride-to-be quite a number of useful gifts.

Mrs. M. E. Evans recently had a visit from her son of Toledo, G. E. McGowan, who was convalescing from a recent severe illness. He came down in his auto, and is employed his the Standard Oil Company.

The School's Boy Scouts during the recent drive sold W. S. S. to the amount of $2,640.

PORT CHESTER, N. Y.

A very delightful Hallows-e'en party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marshall, of Port Chester, Saturday evening, November 2d.

The house was prettily decorated with black and yellow crepe paper and jack-o lanterns, witches and black cats.

Quite a number of the company were masked, and Mr. Guinta and an elderly lady won the prizes for the most original costumes.

Messrs. Livingston and Guinta were responsible for many new and novel games, which were greatly enjoyed.

Thanks is due to Mrs. Marshall for her kindness in loaning the use of her home for the party and to the bountiful repast she served. Um! Her home-made cake was great, as more than one will testify.

Several deaf from New York were invited to attend, and all came in spite of the heavy downpour of rain. They were Misses Mabel Hall and Elsie Grossmann, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lieberz, Messrs. J. Ebin, G. St. Clair, Tingberg and Christiansen.

Misses Hall and Grossmann spent the night with the Marshalls, the rest had engaged rooms at a hotel.

The party broke up in the wee sma' hours and one and all said they had a very pleasant time.

HYMENEAL

PITTSFIELD, MASS., November 1, 1919.—At the parsonage of the Morningside Baptist Church, by Rev. Frank M. Swaffield, the marriage of Miss Harriet Blessing, of 18 Plunket Street, to Simon B. Small, of 14 John Street, Dalton, Mass., took place. The bride was unattended, except her mother and her grandmother. Mrs. Nellie Patrick acted as witness. She wore a suit of blue chiffon broadcloth with hat to match and carried white roses. Mr. and Mrs. Small went immediately from parsonage to depot to catch five o'clock train for a wedding trip to Albany, N. Y., Johnson, N. Y., Rome, Syracuse, Niagara Falls, N. Y. Mrs. Small was a former pupil, of the Northampton and Hartford schools for the Deaf. Mr. Small is a graduate of the Hartford school. They will be at home to their friends at 14 John Street, Dalton, after November 13th. We all extend our congratulations to them.

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James S. Reider, 1588 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Board of Managers of the Pennsylvania Society for the Advancement of the Deaf held an adjourned business meeting at 1538 North Dover Street, on Monday evening, October 26th, with the following members in attendance:—Jas. S. Reider, President; Joseph W. Atcheson, First Vice-President; D. Ellis Lit, Second Vice-President; R. Middleton Ziegler, Secretary; Alex. S. McGhee, Treasurer; John A. Roach, Franklin C. Smielan, William McKinney and John L. Wise. There were only three absentees, whom distance prevented from attending. Quite a large amount of business was transacted by the Board. The President read a letter from Mr. H. S. Hays, Chairman of the Special Committee of the York Chamber of Commerce, appointed to provide entertainment for the deaf during the convention of the Society, stating that a balance of $97.45 was left from the entertainment fund, and that the Board of Directors of the Chamber had approved the Chairman's suggestion to donate the whole amount to the Home for the Aged and Infirm Deaf at Doylestown. Mr. Hays also turned in nearly $5.00 in commissions from the sales of convention group photographs. The Board received this bit of news with gratification, and directed the Secretary to express its thanks to the Chamber of Commerce through Mr. Hays. The report of the Treasurer was very encouraging, and showed that more than a thousand dollars had been received since last May. Rev. F. C. Smielan, Chairman of the Special Committee on Relief of Deaf-Mute Refugees in France and Belgium, reported that he had received to date $42.00 for the refugees. The Board voted to turn over to the Treasurer of the Home the following sums: $500.00 to the Building Fund, and $275.44 to the Maintenance Fund, a total of $775.44. $50.00 was appropriated as the nucleus of a Contingent Fund, to which further additions will be made from time to time. A certificate of five shares of the capital stock of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in the name of the Society was ordered to be assigned to the Board of Trustees of the Home to deposit with other bonds and certificates of stock held by it. The Board deemed that the time had come for bonding the Treasurer of the Society and took action accordingly. Other business of minor importance was transacted before adjournment until next Spring.

The Silent Athletic Club of Philadelphia made its first bid for public patronage by giving a masked dance at the Grand Fraternity, 1626 Arch Street, on Friday evening, November 7th. The attendance was over a hundred, and the event was said to be both profitable and enjoyable.

On Friday, November 7th, Harry, the eleven-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fries, was run down by an automobile on the street and severely injured. He was taken to the Episcopal Hospital, where it was found that besides internal injuries he probably also sustained a fracture of the skull. He is in a precarious condition. The driver of the machine was arrested.

Miss Pauline R. Sensenig, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sensenig, was married to Rev. John Robbins Hart, at the Church of the Saviour in West Philadelphia, on Wednesday evening, November 5th. It was said to have been a very pretty event, and was attended by many friends from the Mt. Airy Institution where Mr. Sensenig is a teacher. Rev. Mr. Hart is an assistant minister at the Church of the Saviour, one of the most handsome churches in the city.

Miss Letitia Matthews was tendered a linen shower in honor of her approaching marriage to Mr. John Allen, at All Souls' Parish House, on Thursday evening, November 6th. She received many gifts from her friends, who in turn were treated to ice cream.

The stark came unexpectedly early to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maurer in Mt. Airy, on Saturday, November 8th, and left a boy to gladden the hearts of the parents. It happened under somewhat peculiar circumstances. During the night a mounted officer was attracted to the house by cries of distress, but being unable to gain entrance, made use of the fire-escape to the room where Mr. Maurer slept. After waking the surprised husband, they investigated, with the result that a doctor was immediately telephoned for by the officer and timely aid given. Mother and child are both doing well now.

Among the visitors to All Souls' Church for the Deaf on Sunday, November 9th, was Mrs. J. Schuyler Long, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, who is making flying visits in the East, for a brief rest from her arduous duties at the Iowa School for the Deaf. Her stay here was regrettably short, but even then it was a pleasure to have her come. She stopped with Mr. and Mrs. Sanders while here, and left on Monday for Washington, D. C.

Among other visitors to All Souls' on the 9th inst., were Mrs. John C. Etter, Mrs. John Myers, Mrs. Harry Albright, Mr. and Mrs. John Rhoads and Mr. John Sharp, all of Lancaster, and Mr. Hunter S. Edington, who has been a compositor in the Government Printing Office for the past twenty years.

Mr. George A. LeVan made a short visit to New York City, on October 26th, to see a friend. He returned the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Pennell went to Phoenixville on Sunday morning, November 3d, to visit their old schoolmates, Mrs. John O'Neill and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ash. They had good time and returned home in the evening.

Kansas, News.

The N. F. S. D., No. 31, was to give a Victory Party in honor of Armistice Day (November 11th), on Saturday, November 8th, but the committees were wise enough to cancel the party, on account of the shortage of coal and the money in our pockets.

The Ladies' Aid Society will have a party at Grace Church on Thanksgiving Day. They say that all the big buyers are coming to eat all the bazaar for their home use. All are welcome. The party will be open all the afternoon and late that evening.

Bro. Arnett, of Merriam, Kansas, has been feeding a big turkey which was to be on sale to the highest bidder at the Victory Party. He realized that he has to keep it for his Thanksgiving dinner. He ought to be proud to eat it.

The N. F. S. D. has had their members photographed twice this year. The first photograph looked pretty good, but several members were absent. The second one looked worse, their faces being dim and dizzy. The second photograph was taken at the Swedish Hall, by the Anderson Studios. The N. F. S. D. promise to have another taken in 1920, for the N. F. S. D. Society paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Huds peth received a visit from the stork on September 4th. Many friends went to their home with congratulation. It is a little girl, weighing 8 pounds.

Bro. Hodges is a new member of the N. F. S. D., and he was proud after the treatment of Billy Goat Horn. Bro. Hunt is an old member, but we never found out his treatment. He confided in one of the members that he had never seen a real goat, and we showed him up at our regular meeting, Saturday, November 1st.

Bro. Bert Scheffer, of Merriam, is said to have brought another automobile for $200.00. We all think he is a good buyer, but not a seller for profit.

There are three auto owners on the Missouri side, and two on Kansas side. They are all deaf mutes, and in time many more will be prosperous enough to own cars.

Bro. Jenkins is working as a union carpenter at 39th Street and Broadway, and makes 90 cents an hour. He has made plans for going hunting during December and January. We all know of his fondness for this sport.

Bro. Walter Chase is still working as a painter in Kansas City. He has considered becoming a resident of N. F. S. D., No. 31, and has been trying to get a job in the Bull-Tire Co., because of previous experience in that line at Akron, O. He failed to get the job.

Bro. Austin Teegarden and his wife left Kansas City for Detroit, Mich., some time in August. Bro. Austin said that he is now working in a box factory. He was formerly connected with Wilson & Co., for several years, as a beef boner, but was laid off on account of cattle shortage.

A son, Rube, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Oswald, on Sunday, October 26th, and weighs ten pounds. Both mother and child are doing well. And a daughter was also born to Mr. and Mrs. Wood on the same day.

The Silent Club in Kansas City is looking around for a new club house, as the old Hippodrome, which was the club house, was torn down this fall. If they find another place, they will try and make the new club bigger and better.

H. B. C.

Superintendent H. M. McManaway.

This is the name of the new Superintendent of the Deaf and Blind School, Staunton, Va. He has been a public school man, coming up from the rural schools to be principal of a high school, then a teacher in the University of Virginia and superintendent of the county schools. Evidently his wide and successful experience in public school work attracted the Board of Trustees of the Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind.

This school had tried out for the past twenty years another man from the public schools, the late W. A. Bowles, and found his service eminently satisfactory. The profession will welcome Mr. McManaway, as it does all new men, with satisfactory experience and promise.—Ohio Chronicle.

OMAHA.

We are glad to see Akron's old correspondent back to the fore and hope he will have a regular write-up for the JOURNAL.

How about the bunch that travelled westward, stopping over at Omaha? We have been greatly concerned over their safe arrival home. They must have had some interesting adventures on the way.

Sunday, October 19th, Prof. and Mrs. J. W. Sowell and daughter, Mrs. A. L. Hurt, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Comp and daughter, and Mr. O. H. Blanchard, spent the day at the hospitable country home of Mr. and Mrs. August Steyer, at Papillion, Neb., where they were treated to a big chicken dinner.

Mrs. Steyer proved herself a versatile entertainer from the cellar to the attic. She made a dance hall out of the kitchen, grabbing every one in turn for a spin around the room.

The Mid-West Chapter of the Gallaudet College Alumni Association held its October meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mullin. The "revised version" of the By Laws and Constitution, arranged by a specially appointed committee, was submitted to the members.

After further business was transacted, "500" was indulged in till a late hour, when light refreshments followed.

The first prize went to Mrs. John W. Barrett and the second to Mr. James Robert Jelinek.

The next meeting will be held at the Iowa School for the Deaf in Council Bluffs, the date to be announced later.

The Year Books are out, and the committee is to be congratulated upon the neat and tasty appearance of the booklets. A miniature Gallaudet pennant adorns the cover. Inside are printed the names of the host and hostess for each month, the names of the officers of the chapter, and on the inside of the last sheet the names of the active and honorary members, forty-four in all.

The chapter voted to send a message of sympathy to Mrs. Harry G. Long on the death of her mother, resulting from an auto accident.

Mrs. Long was unable to attend the funeral, on account of the illness of her little son.

The "call of friends" in the "Rubber City," was too strong for Mr. Scott Cusaden, so Thursday, the 23d ultimo, he packed his grip and took the train for Akron, Ohio, with intentions of remaining there should he secure a lucrative position.

Football was the main attraction Akronites held out, coaxing our Cussy to leave us. We are hoping he will miss us enough to come back within the next two weeks. Have a good time while there, though, Scott.

Mr. Adolph N. Struck has just secured a new position, and left a couple weeks ago for Chicago to try his luck. If he finds it satisfactory, his family will join him there before long.

Quite a number of the local deaf were victims of football fever Saturday afternoon, the 23th, and went out to Rourke Park, where they witnessed two games—the first between Creighton University and Marquette (Milwaukee, Wis.), the second between Nebraska's famous Cornhuskers (Nebraska University) and the University of Oklahoma. Both games proved very interesting and resulted in a tie—the first 0-0 and the second 7-7, respectively.

Mr. Harry Stark is the proud possessor of a new Harley-Davidson motorcycle. Give the girls a ride, Harry.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Stevenson, of New York City, N. Y. Miss Stevenson was Miss Edith Long, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Long. Congratulations.

Mrs. Robert Mullin, assisted by Miss Lettie Kindred, gave a surprise Hallows-e'en party on her husband, Saturday night, October 31st. The guests, twenty-four in all, wore character costumes, from that of a weird-looking witch to a jolly old clown. The house was decorated appropriate to the occasion.

Miss Nellie Johnson won first prize, for the most beautiful costume, as a demure Indian maiden, while Mr. Arthur Nelson carried off the gentleman's honors, as a clown in a gorgeous lavender suit.

The consolations for the homeliest costumes went to Miss Stacia Kuta, as a witch, and Mr. Harry Stark, as a hooked-nose bum.

Various amusing games were played. Refreshments consisted of pumpkin-pie, fancy cakes, nut-fudge, sandwiches and coffee. The happy crowd dispersed for home in the wee sma' hours.

Mr. O. H. Blanchard took another trip to Griswold, Ia., Saturday, November 1st, to spend Sunday with his mother, who is still there visiting relatives.

FREDERICK, MD.

Senator William J. Ogden, of Baltimore, who is Secretary of the Board of State Aid and Charities, honored us with a visit on the twenty-eighth of October. After reviewing the battalion, an inspection was made of various class rooms and the Industrial Building. Senator Ogden expressed himself as highly pleased with the school work and drill.

We had another distinguished visitor in the person of Colonel Baughman, State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, on the same day. This gentleman paid some high compliments to our school, and in a speech to the older pupils the Commissioner stated that he would try to help the deaf in securing permits to own and operate automobiles. This is indeed good news to the deaf, as already quite a number of deaf residents of Baltimore own automobiles and are facing a much-talked-of new ruling, forbidding the deaf to operate automobiles.

Monday morning found all the teachers and pupils gathered in the chapel to honor one of America's greatest and most representative citizens, Theodore Roosevelt. A very appropriate program was prepared for the occasion by the advanced and intermediate classes.

Saturday evening, the twenty-fifth ult., the members of the Ely Literary Society were entertained with a very pleasing lecture by Principal Bjorlee, entitled, "From New York City to Lake of the Woods, Minnesota, via automobile." The lecture was illustrated with fifty stereoscopic views, and proved very entertaining. It gave many interesting facts concerning the States that were traversed.

Friday morning the entire student body was invited to the Opera House to witness "The Fighting Roosevelts," in six parts. This film is a biographical sketch of the life of Theodore Roosevelt from childhood to about a year before his death. The film also gives a good account of how his sons fought in the Great War. The pupils thoroughly enjoyed the pictures and all would like to see it again.

The Halloween party, held on October 31st, was a success in all details, thanks to the able management of the committee, the Misses Tillinghast, Griffin and MacDonald. All sorts of enjoyable games were indulged in. After a nice treat of ice-cream and cake, the party broke up at ten P.M. sharp.

Accepting the challenge from the Frederick Girls' High School to a game of end ball, our girls with but a week's practice, defeated the High School girls in three sets out of five, played on our lawn. Only one set was won by the hearing clan, another resulted in a tie. Encouraged by this victory, they are looking forward to other games in the near future.

A contribution was recently taken for the Roosevelt Memorial Fund, and the neat little sum of forty-one dollars was raised from the teachers, officers and pupils.

We are experiencing very unusual weather for October and November. Conditions are somewhat like a prolonged Indian summer. We have had no cold snap up to date, and the flowers are still in full bloom.

Clifton Carman is the recipient of a letter from his soldier uncle in Siberia. The letter bears the date of September 18th, and was forty days on its journey.

To seek the enactment of stringent laws for the suppression of the impostor evil—hearing persons posing as Deaf-Mutes;
To raise an endowment fund—the income of which is to be devoted to furthering the objects of the Association;
